So there you go, that's a example exam script answer for a question in contract law, where you are asked to classify a term in a contract. Usually, you will be asked to classify a term to determine if it can be breached, or at least that is what I found when reviewing old exams, so that is why I have set my script out in that context.

Offer and acceptance analysis is a traditional approach in contract law used to determine whether an agreement exists between two parties. As a contract is an agreement, an offer is an indication by one person (the "offeror") to another (the "offeree") of the offeror's willingness to enter into a contract on certain terms without further negotiations.
