Perhaps a good starting point in reflecting upon this is a shared understanding by the professionals working with the child of ' who is in the driving seat. ' . Who sits where in relation to the child and what is the role that each professional plays in maximising the child ' s independence. There are times when the professional may need to temporarily take the driving seat position, or take on the role of dual control operator whilst skills and tasks are taught and confidence is developed.

South Florida's renowned Dog Trainer CARLOS PUENTES shares his real life experiences and proven techniques that will put you back in the driver's seat and in control of your dog. He will show you how to counteract behavior problems by using Basic Obedience Commands. No more pulling you down the street if your dog has learned to Heel by your side or acting aggressively if he has to go Down and Stay. He won't jump up on you or guests if he obeys Sit and Stay. Put an end to running after your dog if he really has learned to come. But these things can only come to be if YOU really are training your dog. Carlos Puentes takes you step by step through proper obedience training, which has helped several dog owners solve many of their dog problems for over 14 years. The Author cautions readers at the specific moments when most dog owners fall short of training their dogs and raises the question when necessary Who's Training Whom? He's trained dogs for top notch executives, celebrities and professional athletes including Major League Baseball players Bobby Estalella of the San Fransisco Giants and Magglio Ordonez of the 2006 American League Champions Dertoit Tigers, John Casablancas owner of world

Surprisingly, they found that working on interpersonal and international challenges at the same time accelerated progress on both.

A dark, dazzling, surprisingly funny new collection of stories (“ Masterly ” —Adam Mars Jones, The Observer; “ A virtuoso performance ” —Jane Shilling, The Sunday Telegraph) about single women and wives in various phases of midlife—anxious mothers, besotted mothers, beset mothers—in a (futile) search for security and consolation. Helen Simpson ’ s stories are short but by no means small. One story takes the Iraq war as its subject; another describes a smoker ’ s reprieve from death by lung cancer; in another, a simple tale of home maintenance—a woman in a conversation with the carpenter replacing her door after a break-in—becomes a deftly sketched study of grief. In still another, Simpson manages the seemingly impossible—producing laughter at terminal illness and untimely death (this might be the first story in which the amputation of a limb provides a happy ending). And finally, the story entitled “ Constitutional ” —a pun on one of the word ’ s meanings: a walk taken for the benefit of one ’ s health—deals with memory, family, Alzheimer ’ s, oak trees, pregnancy for the over-forties, stolen photographs, and crossword puzzles. Helen Simpson ’ s stories move and disturb us as they light up the human gift for making the best of it—whatever it is.
